THE LEGISLATION IN ONTARIO

The Law Enforcement Compensation Act, 1967, was given Royal Assent on June 15, 1967, and proclaimed in force on April 1, 1968. Under the Act, as passed in 1967, the Board was restricted to awarding compensation where a person was killed or injured assisting a peace officer.

The Act was amended in 1969, the amendments being given Royal Assent on June 27, 1969, and being made retroactive to April 1, 1968. The amendments broadened the Act so that compensation might be paid, not only where a person is killed or injured assisting a peace officer, but also where the person by himself lawfully engages in enforcement of the law, or where he is simply a victim of crime.

A new Act, The Compensation for Victims of Crime Act, 1971, proclaimed on September 1, 1971, repealed The Law Enforcement Compensation Act, 1968-69, but provided that with respect to claims for compensation arising from an act or omission that occurred during the period in which The Law Enforcement Compensation Act was in force, that is, during the period of April 1, 1968 to August 31, 1971, the said The Law Enforcement Compensation Act, 1967, as amended, with the exception of "Hearings and Procedures" (Section 29(2) of the new Act) would apply.

The intent of the new legislation remains unchanged from that of the earlier Act, namely, to provide compensation to victims of crimes of personal violence, or to those injured or killed in taking part in lawful law enforcement, or to dependants of such person, or to other persons qualified under the Act. The titles of the new Act, "The Compensation for Victims of Crime Act, 1971" and of the new Board, "Criminal Injuries Compensation Board" are more descriptive of the intent of the legislation and of the functions of the Board.

REASONS FOR LEGISLATION

The reasons which prompted the enactment of the legislation to compensate victims of crime have been given as:

(a) The failure of the state to ensure the safety of its citizens (admittedly, the same reasoning extends to victims of fraud and loss of property due to criminal acts, but the cost would be astronomical),

and

(b) A sense of responsibility which a humane society feels for victims of crime. We live in an era when society recognizes many new obligations. A somewhat analogous recognition in Ontario and other jurisdictions is the compensation paid by the province or state under an unsatisfied judgment fund for persons injured or killed through the negligence of car drivers. Unless the state assumes the responsibility, the victim of crime usually will not be compensated. Generally speaking, it is the poor who commit crimes of violence and it is the poor who are the victims of crime. There is growing acceptance throughout the Western and English-speaking world that those who are injured, and the spouses and dependants of those who are killed by crimes of violence, ought to be compensated.

LEGISLATION IN OTHER JURISDICTIONS TO COMPENSATE VICTIMS OF CRIMES OF PERSONAL VIOLENCE

In 1964 New Zealand established the first scheme to provide compensation to victims of crimes of personal violence. Since that time a number of other jurisdictions including the United Kingdom, New South Wales, the States of Hawaii, New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, California, Nevada and New Jersey, have passed similar legislation. In Canada all the provinces, with the exception of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, now have compensation plans in operation. A number of other jurisdictions are actively considering the enactment of such legislation.

At an international conference held in Toronto on the 14th, 15th and 16th of September, 1972, at which the Ontario Board was host and convener, representatives attended from 22 countries, states and provinces. All the Canadian provinces, except Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan, were represented and delegates came from as far away as Australia, Great Britain, Hawaii and California. With respect to the conference we quote from the 1972 report of the Criminal Injuries Compensation Commission of Hawaii, just received:

> "In its Fourth Annual Report, the Commission recommended that consideration should be given to increasing our participation in associations and conferences with other State and Federal agencies involved in similar programs to compensate the victims of crime. Unfortunately, the general tightening of the State's financial belt has prevented the funding of such activities. Yet the benefits of such participation with other administrators in similar programs cannot be doubted. It was with this thought in mind that our dedicated Executive Secretary attended at his own expense the Third International Conference on the Compensation of Innocent Victims of Violent Crimes, held at Toronto, Canada, on September 14 to 16, 1972. Most American and Canadian jurisdictions having legislation in this field, as well as leading scholars interested in the subject, were in attendance. The following topics were discussed:
> (a) new developments in the field of victims compensation, (b) administrative problems and solutions of existing programs, (c) victim behavior as a bar to recovery and (d) the role of the federal government in crime compensation.

Attendance by the Commission's Executive Secretary at the Third International Conference was extremely beneficial to our State program. The participation of a representative from Hawaii was helpful in establishing practical lines of communications and personal relationships with persons who are particularly knowledgeable, interested and expert in the field of compensating criminal victims. A spirit of co-operation prevailed among all the participants, and many useful ideas and comparative approaches to common problems were discussed. As a result, our Executive Secretary was able to get a good insight into the experiences, the problems encountered by other jurisdictions and the different solutions which have been utilized. The wealth of practical knowledge thus gained will be useful in improving and strengthening the Hawaii Criminal Injuries program."

All who attended the Conference have expressed like sentiments and we found the discussions to be of great benefit.

Recently the Government of Canada, through the Minister of Justice, submitted a proposed scheme in the form of an agreement to be entered into between a province and the federal government whereby the Government of Canada would assist the provinces by making financial contribution to the cost of compensation for victims of crime. The basis upon which compensation may be obtained under the federal proposal is practically the same as is set forth in the Ontario Act. An agreement, effective January 1st, 1973, has now been entered into between the Government of Canada and the Government of Ontario whereby the Government of Canada will pay to the Government of Ontario, .05 cents per capita of the population of the province, or 90% of the actual amount paid by the province, whichever is the lesser, as a contribution toward the cost of compensation for victims of crime.

The Commissioners on uniformity of legislation in Canada, at a conference held in Charlottetown in 1970, prepared a model form of a statute for consideration by the various provincial and federal governments. The legislation in the various provinces conforms fairly closely to the model Act, but complete uniformity has not yet been achieved.

ADMINISTRATION

The Registrar of the Criminal Injuries Compensation Board is Mr. J.B. Lind and the Deputy Registrar is Mr. C.O. Huggard. They are supported by a staff of seven which includes an Investigator, Mr. J.H. Sheard.

In the statistical information to be found in this report it will be noted that on January 1, 1972, the number of cases outstanding was 380. This number was decreased during the year and as of December 31st, 1972 stood at 344. Since these applications are on file, they are to be regarded as cases pending which will eventually come before the Board for hearing, but they are not to be regarded as a "backlog" since a great majority of these outstanding cases are not yet ready for hearing for various reasons, such as lack of medical or police reports and the inability of applicants to attend through illness, etc.

It is to be noted also that the work of the Board increased greatly during the year, the number of applications being heard in 1972, being 484 as compared with 204 in 1971. Eligible applications received during 1972 were 488, as compared with 438 in 1971.

The Compensation for Victims of Crime Act provides (Section 8(b)) that, on the direction of the Chairman, an application may be heard by one member. It is provided by Section 10 (1) that, where an application is heard by a single member the Decision is subject to review. It is perhaps worthy of note that, in the period covered by this report, a total of 27 cases were heard by a single member. There was no request for review of any of these single member decisions. This result may point the way to achieving some economy in the cost of administration. We observe that in Great Britain approximately 90% of the applications are disposed of and the cases decided by a single member. The number of appeals from these single member decisions is not unduly large.

This leads us to comment on the value of complete investigation by competent personnel before the application is heard. In Britain a substantial part of the administrative staff is made up of investigators who marshall all the relevant facts in a very full and thorough way so that when the matter comes before the member he does not have to expend time or effort in searching for evidence. In fact, all of these single member decisions, in Britain, are made on documentary evidence only (without the applicant, counsel or witnesses being present). This type of procedure can save much time and expense, but it would not be possible to administer the legislation in this way, and achieve just and equitable results without the thorough investigation and compilation of facts which is done beforehand. It is this which we stress.

The Board, since its inception, has had only one investigator on its staff and with the great increase in the number of applications it is impossible for one man to properly, and thoroughly, do the necessary investigation and assembly of relevant evidence which is essential to proper adjudication of compensability and assessment of entitlement to compensation. Hearings before the Board are not adversary situations as in Court. There is no searching cross-examination by counsel and if the members of the Board, who preside at and conduct the hearing, do not have full and factual material before them, they cannot ask the necessary questions to discover the true circumstances of the incident or matter in question and are, therefore, handicapped in trying to determine a proper award, or perhaps in deciding whether to consider or reject the claim because of the conduct of the applicant.

The Investigator also has the very important function of reviewing, at least once annually, all those cases where the award is paid on a periodical basis. He reports to the Board in each case so that, if circumstances warrant a change, the Board may take appropriate action.

A relatively small amount spent to ensure adequate investigation could save comparatively large sums which are likely to be disbursed where full investigation is lacking.

Of the 461 cases heard by the Board in the fiscal year covered by this report, there have been four applications for review by the Court of the Board's decision. Two of these have been heard and referred back to the Board for rehearing and two are pending review by the Court.

We have proposed to the Attorney General amendments which we believe will clarify certain sections of the Act and some which are new, and all of which we believe will improve our administration and enable us to better serve the public and those citizens who come before us as applicants. We anticipate that these amendments will be introduced in the Legislature during the current session.

So far no regulations have been enacted to define procedural and other matters under the Act. The matter of the need for regulations and their content is under study and discussion.

We draw attention to the fact that Section 25(2) of The Compensation for Victims of Crime Act provides that the Board is subrogated to "all the rights of the person to whom payment is made under this Act to recover damages by civil proceedings in respect of the injury or death." We encourage applicants to institute civil proceedings where there appears to be a fair possibility of recovery of damages from the offender, and we notify the Attorney General of all cases where we believe recovery can be made from the offender. The matter is then followed up by the law officers of the Crown and recovery has been obtained in a number of cases. The fact, however, remains that the great majority of offenders are judgment proof. Many are incarcerated for long periods of time and some can not be found. It is the policy of the Board to use every effort to have the offender pay for the injury he has caused.

We cannot conclude this report without expressing our appreciation and gratitude to the members of the Bar, the Police, Legal Aid, Crown Attorneys, Doctors, Dentists, the staffs of hospitals and members of the Press for the excellent assistance and co-operation which the Board has received.

Our own staff is capable, courteous and industrious, and the dedicated and efficient manner in which they have carried out their duties, has made it possible for the Board to accomplish the work described in this report.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

APPLICATIONS DISMISSED

Application Number 100-168

The victim, age 40, alleged that he was assaulted in the washroom of a bar lounge of a Toronto hotel. He alleges he sustained a head injury and body bruises. He did not seek medical attention nor did he report the incident to the police. The application was set down for a Hearing on two separate occasions but the claimant failed to appear. The Board dealt with the application on documentary evidence assembled and due to the lack of medical and police evidence, the Board could not find the applicant a victim of crime. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-203

The victim, age 43, alleged that he was assaulted on a Toronto street by persons unknown, sustaining three broken ribs and injuries to the left eye. The victim did not report to the hospital for a week after the incident and the assault was not reported to the police. The Board found that the evidence did not establish the claimant as being a victim of crime within the meaning of the Act. The Application was dismissed.

Application Number 100-216

The victim, age 41, alleged that he was assaulted in Toronto on two separate occasions sustaining a fractured jaw in the first incident, and a fractured pelvis in the second incident. No complaint or charges were registered with the police, and after two Hearings, the Board found that, due to the unsatisfactory nature of the evidence, they could not find a crime had been committed within the meaning of the Act. The Application was dismissed.

Application Number 100-300

The victim, age 41, a Toronto fireman, suffered a heart attack after running some distance to an isolated area in Whitchurch Township. He had been told by a neighbour's daughter that a man was indecently exposing himself. The offender was dismissed on a charge of indecent exposure. The Board, after considering all available evidence and hearing witnesses, found that the claimant was not a victim of a crime of violence, nor did he qualify under Section 3(1)(b) or (c) of the Act. The Application was, therefore, dismissed.

Application Number 100-302

The victim, age 62, alleged that while proceeding to his place of employment in Ottawa in his motor vehicle, he was struck in the rear by another car forcing him partially into a ditch. He sustained injury to his knee. No vehicle or person was identified. The Board found he did not qualify under the Act. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-315

The victim, age 59, alleged that he was robbed and beaten by four assailants when crossing through a Toronto park in the late evening. He did not report the matter to the police, and hospital records indicate treatment dates different than those indicated in the application. The Board found that the evidence fell far short of establishing that the applicant was a victim of crime. The Application was dismissed.

Application Number 100-387

The victim, a 36 year old male, was assaulted by inmates during a prison riot.

Having regard to both Section 5 of the Act and the fact that Provincial law enforcement agencies have no jurisdiction over a Federal Penitentiary, the Board dismissed the Application.

Application Number 100-392

The victim, age 25, alleges that he was assaulted without provocation outside an Erieau hotel. He sustained a broken ankle, concussion and brain damage. The charge against the offender was dismissed. The Board, heard the evidence, including that of the offender, and read the transcript of the criminal trial. It found that on a preponderance of the credible evidence, the applicant had not proven he was a victim of crime. The Application was dismissed.

Application Number 100-465

The victim, a 68 year old male, after an altercation in a Toronto tavern, followed the individual outside and as the result of a further altercation, was pushed to the pavement and sustained a broken leg. The incident was not reported to the police. The Board found that the victim failed to meet the onus of establishing that a crime had been committed within the meaning of the Act. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-470

The victim, age 52, while riding his bicycle on a rural road in the Lake Wilcox area, was struck by a car which failed to stop. He sustained a fractured knee and hip. The Board found on the evidence that the injuries sustained resulted from the operation of a motor vehicle but was not an assault by means of such vehicle. The Application was dismissed.

Application Number 100-487

The victim, age 27, alleges that he was assaulted outside a Toronto tavern, when, during a pushing and shoving match, he was given a push, slipped on the ice, and fell into the street where he was hit by a car. He sustained a fractured right leg. No arrests were made and no charges were laid. The Board found that on a preponderance of the credible evidence, the applicant had not established that he was a victim of crime within the meaning of the Act. The Application was dismissed.

Application Number 100-507

The victim, a 51 year old female, was allegedly assaulted by her next-door neighbours after words had passed between the two families. She sustained bruises to her nose and right shoulder. The charge against the offenders was dismissed. The Board found that there was insufficient evidence to prove that a crime had been committed within the meaning of the Act. The Application was dismissed.

Application Number 100-514

The victim, age 41, after leaving the beverage room of a Weston hotel, alleges that he was assaulted in the parking lot when about to enter his car. He sustained lacerations to his left arm and back. The incident was not reported to the police and the Board found certain discrepancies in his evidence. It therefore held that he had failed to prove that he was an innocent victim of crime. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-524

The victim, age 54, alleged that he was assaulted in a Toronto rooming house after a quarrel with a person regarding the return of a shirt that had been loaned. The incident was not reported to the police and no charges were laid. In view of the circumstances, the Board found that he did not qualify for compensation as a victim of crime. The Application was dismissed.

Application Number 100-536

The victim, age 59, after returning home to Little Current from work, consumed a substantial amount of wine in company with his common-law wife, her brother and another person. He and his wife went to bed and during his sleep, he began to choke her. The brother heard her cries and went to her rescue by pushing the victim off her with his right leg. This action damaged the victim's eye to the extent that it was enucleated. The offender was charged with assault occasioning bodily harm and was found not guilty. The Board shares the opinion of the presiding Judge that no crime was committed and makes no award.

Application Number 100-548

(Same occurrence and disposition as Application Number 100-387 – Kingston Penitentiary riot).

Application Number 100-563

The applicant, a 40 year old fireman, was injured in the course of his duty while fighting a fire at a Toronto store. The owner of the store was charged with fraud and subsequently was acquitted. Application was made on the basis that the criminal offence of arson was committed, however, this fact was not established to the Board's satisfaction. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-570

The victim, a 22 year old female, when hitch-hiking on a Toronto street, was picked up by a passing motorist. They visited various locations in the city, ending up the evening in a beverage lounge. The victim alleges that she was assaulted when being driven home afterwards, but also states she can remember nothing about the details due to the alcohol she consumed. She sustained a fractured nose and a broken toe, apparently when exiting from the vehicle. Upon the evidence and the material filed, including the police occurrence report, the Board was not convinced that a crime had been committed within the meaning of the Act. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-574

(Same occurrence and disposition as Application Number 100-387 – Kingston Penitentiary riot).

Application Number 100-575

The victim, a 40 year old male, acting as a voluntary bartender at a stag party in Baden, sustained a fractured elbow while breaking up a fight. Unfortunately he did not make a direct complaint to the police. The Board, although sympathetic with the applicant, could not find him a victim of crime. The case was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-585

The victim, age 31, was shot in the leg while attending a party in Toronto. There had apparently been an argument between the victim and the offender several hours prior to this incident. The victim stated on several occasions that he "would get this guy himself." The offender was identified and at what was to be a preliminary hearing, the victim on the basis, that he was not prepared under oath to positively identify the offender, left the presiding Judge with no option but to discharge the offender.

The Board stressed that there is a responsibility on the injured person to assist with law enforcement prior to seeking compensation at the expense of the taxpayer. The Board, therefore, made no award.

Application Number 100-604

The victim, age 32, after registering in a Toronto hotel in the early evening, then went out for a walk. He alleges that he was approached by a female impersonator asking directions. Subsequently a third man appeared with a gun, forcing him to take them to his room. There, so he alleges, he was assaulted and robbed. There were no arrests. The explanation given by the victim was not consistent with the explanation given by him to the police, and other statements given at other times, thus the Board was not satisfied that the applicant was a victim of crime within the terms of the Act. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-606

The victim, age 26, alleges that he was assaulted on a Windsor street in the early morning hours. There were no arrests and the police investigating pointed out several discrepancies and cast serious doubts on the story told by the applicant to the police. Also there were discrepancies in his statements to the Board. The Board found there was such serious doubt that the applicant was a victim of a criminal offence that he could not be found compensable under the Act. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-609

The victim, age 64, attended a party at a friend's Toronto home. On leaving in the early morning hours en route to his own home he stopped in at an all night restaurant where he struck up an acquaintance with two men, and remained several hours consuming wine. All three men then proceeded to the victim's apartment where an argument broke out. As a result he was beaten up by these two persons and robbed. He sustained three fractured ribs and facial lacerations. The charges against the offenders were dismissed. Although the Board found the applicant a victim of crime within the meaning of the Act, they took into consideration Section 5 and could only find that the victim was the author of his own misfortune. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-617

The victim, age 28, after being in various Hamilton hotels drinking with his companions, was assaulted and beaten by one of them. He sustained facial lacerations so severe that his right eye had to be removed. The suspect was arrested. However, the victim refused to give the police any assistance, with the result that it was not possible to charge the offender. The Board, taking into consideration Section 5 of the Act, and the victim's refusal to co-operate with the police, considered an award was not justified. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-619

The victim, age 18, while attending a high school dance in Ernestown, alleged he was assaulted with a chain during a fight outside the building. He sustained injury to his right eye and shoulder. The charges of assault causing bodily harm and possession of an offensive weapon were both dismissed. The Board having heard the evidence of the victim, and the offender, and having studied the Provincial Court transcript of evidence, found that the applicant was not an innocent victim of crime within the meaning of the Act. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-630

The victim, age 60, a Toronto resident, but employed in Saskatchewan, alleges that a succession of people were guilty of forgery, conspiring against him, and obstructing the course of justice. As a result the applicant contends that he suffered physically and mentally from the supposed crimes. The Board, after hearing the applicant finds there is no merit to his claims. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-656 and Application Number 100-657

The victims, a man age 30, and his wife age 27, while proceeding east-bound on a concession road in Tuscarora Township, in a car driven by the husband, struck a mail box which had a cement base and which allegedly had been placed on the pavement. Both the victims sustained extensive injuries. Charges of criminal negligence were preferred against two persons and were dismissed. The Board, after considering all the evidence, was of the opinion that the accident was caused solely as the result of the negligence of the driver. He could not have been keeping a proper look-out at the time, or he would have observed the obstruction on the highway. The Applications were therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-670

The victim, a 14 year old boy, was playing with some other youths in a gravel pit on the outskirts of Lucan and was stuffing firecrackers in the mouths of frogs, causing them to explode. A family picnicking nearby became upset and after being taunted by the youths, the head of the family struck the victim a blow in the face, causing a small laceration and black eye. The offender was found guilty of assault and fined $50. The Board found that the applicant qualified as a victim of crime. However, his own cruel and wanton conduct was such as to disentitle him from compensation. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-688

The victim, a 31 year old strip tease artist was apparently struck on the left breast by a small piece of metal thrown by a member of the audience in a Toronto burlesque theatre. The resulting laceration was so minor as to require little medical attention. She did, however, experience problems which were related to non-compensable breast surgery. In the opinion of the Board all surgery was undertaken to repair and correct a condition which bore no relationship to the incident which is put forward as the basis of this claim for compensation. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-700

The victim, age 29, when entering a cottage on Lake Simcoe, accompanied by his wife, was shot and killed. The offender was found guilty of manslaughter and was sentenced to five years imprisonment. The Board, after considering all the evidence, found that the applicant, wife of the victim, suffered no pecuniary loss as the result of the death of her husband. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-705

The victim, a 51 year old Toronto female, was beaten by her common-law husband. While the Board is satisfied that the applicant was a victim of crime, Section 4(2) of The Law Enforcement Compensation Act provides that an award for pain and suffering may not be made to a relative of the offender or a member of the offender's household. This lady was clearly a member of the offender's household. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-707

The victim, age 24, was assaulted at a late night party in London. Two of the victim's teeth were knocked out after an altercation, caused by the offender's resentment of the applicant's attention to his girl friends. No report was made to the police. When the injured person does not himself consider the attack upon him to be serious enough to require him to report it to the police and does nothing to bring the offender to justice, he cannot be regarded as eligible for compensation under the Act. The Application was therefore denied.

Application Number 100-723

The victim, a 42 year old female, was severely beaten by a person who was drinking with her in a Toronto apartment. She sustained a broken nose, a fracture of both jaws and multiple bruises. The victim would not co-operate with the police in the prosecution of the offender. Thus, the charge against him was dismissed. The Board, taking into consideration Section 5 of the Act, was of the opinion that there should be no award for compensation. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-740

The victim, age 31, alleged that while walking along a Toronto street, he was approached by three men who came out of a tavern and in a subsequent scuffle he sustained lacerations to his right wrist. The incident was not reported to the police and the Board after hearing the evidence of the applicant, was not satisfied that he was a victim of crime. The Application was dismissed.

Application Number 100-742

The victim, a 54 year old lady, was bitten severely by a German shepherd dog in Toronto. The owner was convicted of having a dog at large. This offence, however, was not considered to be within the realm of the Law Enforcement Compensation Act. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-746

The victim, a 50 year old female, was attacked and bitten by a stray wild dog, when alighting from her car in Georgian Township, sustaining multiple lacerations to her head and face. The dog could not be located. All evidence pointed to the conclusion that it was a wild dog without an owner. The Board found that no offence by a person had been proven as required by Section 3 of the Act. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-752

(Same occurrence and disposition as Application Number 100-387 – Kingston Penitentiary riot).

Application Number 100-765

The victim, a 59 year old Windsor carpenter, alleged that he was assaulted while en route home from a hotel beverage room in the early morning hours. He sustained fractures of two vertebrae in the neck region. The offender was not apprehended. The Board, after hearing the applicant and considering all the available evidence, was not satisfied that he was a victim of crime within the meaning of the Act. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-789

The victim, age 62, while in his room in a Toronto rooming house, alleges that he was assaulted by another roomer. He sustained only minor bruises and contusions. The evidence before the Board indicated that he had been drinking with his assailant for some time prior to the assault, and that he had been involved in a brawl. The Board, after taking into consideration Section 5 of the Act, was of the opinion that he was not entitled to an award for compensation. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-792

The victim, age 51, after leaving a Toronto hotel beverage room alleged that he was assaulted by three men, and as a result sustained a fractured jaw. The incident was not reported to the police. The Board, after hearing the applicant and considering the evidence at hand, was not satisfied that the injuries were the result of a criminal act. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-804

(Same occurrence and dispostion as Application Number 100-387 – Kingston Penitentiary riot).

Application Number 100-805

(Same occurrence and disposition as Application Number 100-387 – Kingston Penitentiary riot).

Application Number 100-816

(Same occurrence and disposition as Application Number 100-387 – Kingston Penitentiary riot).

Application Number 100-826

The victim, age 34, while a voluntary patient in a Toronto Mental Health Centre, alleged that he was assaulted by another patient. He sustained a fractured nose. He made no report to the officials of the Health Centre. The Board, after hearing the evidence and taking into consideration the condition of the applicant at the time, was unable to find that a criminal assault did occur. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-839

The victim, age 27, alleged that he was assaulted in his Kitchener apartment, by an acquaintance who had been invited in for the evening. He sustained a blow on the head, and neck lacerations. Although a conviction was registered against the offender, the Board took into consideration Section 5 of the Act and in its opinion the circumstances out of which this incident arose was not within the meaning of the Act. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 100-896

The victim, age 53, sustained a fractured nose and ankle when attempting to quiet some tenants in his Ottawa apartment building. Evidence indicated that he was intoxicated at the time and offered conflicting stories regarding the incident. Further, he refused to reveal the identities of the assailants and would not co-operate with the police. In the light of this, the Application was dismissed.

Application Number 100-924

The applicant, a 70 year old man, presented a great deal of information to the Board, yet none revealed that he had been the victim of any crime within the meaning of the Act. The Application was therefore dismissed.

THE FOLLOWING APPLICATIONS WERE DEALT WITH UNDER THE COMPENSATION FOR VICTIMS OF CRIME ACT, 1971

Application Number 200-7

The victim, age 65, alleged that he was assaulted on the street en route to his Sudbury home. He sustained lacerations and contusions to his face. The police investigation concluded that the victim fell as the result of his intoxicated condition. The Board was of the opinion that no criminal offence had been proven. The Application was dismissed.

Application Number 200-16

The victim, age 25, alleged that while a patron in the beverage room of a Windsor hotel, he was assaulted and ejected by the "bouncer" of the establishment. He sustained a fractured nose and cheek bone with some injury to his right eye. The charge of assault causing bodily harm was dismissed. The Court held that the applicant had provoked the incident and in fact had struck the alleged offender first. In the light of all the circumstances, the Board was unable to find the applicant a victim of crime within the meaning of the Act. The Application was therefore dismissed.

Application Number 200-21

The victim, age 33, was first assaulted by a female with whom he was living in a common-law relationship, and subsequently on the same day by the husband of this female. He had consumed a considerable amount of alcohol. The victim sustained lacerations to the head.
